 Made in Italy

New generation diagnostic device designed to work with all types of vehicle and communication protocols with the various ECUs.

iONE CRUISER stands out because of its communication speed, computing power, flexibility and modularity.

These features, combined with the new software platform allow technicians to work simultaneously on several control units and work environments, performing encodings, adjustments and activations immediately.

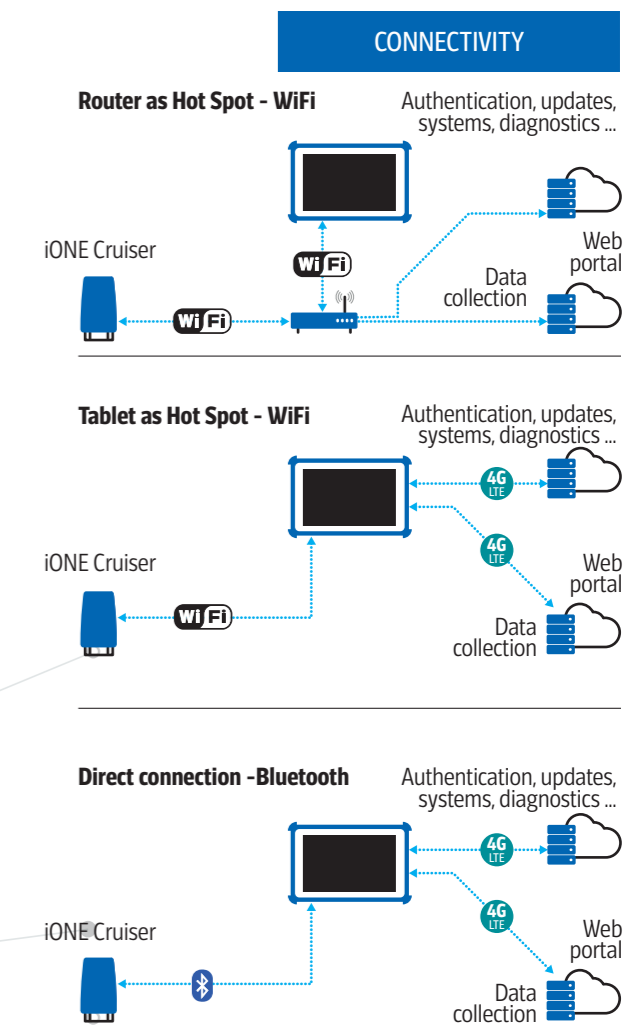

Powered internally by a SuperCap, it does not require a battery, guaranteeing a long service life compared to standard devices. Its exclusive design and ergonomics also make it stand out from the rest.

iONE CRUISER transforms working standards, making diagnosis fast, simple, intuitive and accessible to everyone everywhere!

-  New generation diagnostic interface, compatible with every type of vehicle
-  Superior performance: the scan of the entire vehicle is available just a few seconds after connection
-  Modular hardware / software architecture:
  -  Fast implementation of new automotive technologies
  -  Agile development and release of new systems
-  Independent from PC hardware performance
